

April 15, 2009

Previously, the TMI Group announced the acquisition of testing equipment assets of Brustio Antonio srl, located in Galliate, Italy. Brustio manufactures a line of test instruments since 1946 for the Textile Yarn industry including the model ADF- Automated Tensile testing device for measuring continuous strength of yarns.

Manufacturing

Since the acquisition, the manufacturing capabilities have been moved to the Büchel location in the Netherlands. We are also pleased to announce Fabrizio Ferrari, a former Chief Engineer of Brustio, is now employed at the Büchel location providing manufacturing and software support for the ADF-Automated Tensile Tester for Yarns and other Brustio products.
