TMI Group introduces NEW Affordable Tensile Tester Powered by GraphMaster

December 10, 2009

The TMI Group of Companies, a global leader in providing laboratory testing instrumentation is proud to release GraphMaster Analysis Software. GraphMaster provides solutions for curve analysis and test data storage for materials testing instrumentation. GraphMaster directly interfaces with our NEW 84-76 tensile tester. Software displays real-time curve, menu selection of popular test results and export feature for results and curve data. Software captures test curve data with results and transfers test information directly to Excel®, Access® or Clipboard.
